G. Mason Owlett Outlines Tentative Plans To Invade Meeting

PLANNED FOR JAN. 28

Calls For Invitations For Other Interested Republican Groups

By John Paget (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 19.—(INS)—The Republican Party headed for a razor-dazzle primary election fight with liberals and conservatives promising a no-holds-barred campaign.

The political Donnybrook will be rooted in State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor's scathing denunciation of National Committeeman G. Mason Owlett's announced plan to invade a Duff-for-Senate gubernatorial slate-making pow-wow at Hershey January 28th. Taylor is allied with Gov. Duff, who is seeking the GOP U. S. Senatorial nomination, while Owlett is the top field general for Republicans associated with former U. S. Sen. Joseph R. Grundy who are said to favor Cong. John C. Kunkel, of Harrisburg.

Owlett, once teamed with Taylor in the so-called Grundy organization, accused the State Chairman of attempting to wreck the GOP. Taylor said Owlett was dedicated to "rule or ruin" tactics for refusing to go along with the Duff movement.

Owlett, apparently stung by Taylor's blast, issued the following statement:

"M. Harvey Taylor's rejection of my proposal for a harmony slate-making conference is a brazen insult to every decent Republican in Pennsylvania. It is a sad day for our party when payrollers posing as kingmakers slam the door in the face of those sincerely interested in a Republican victory in November."

"Specifically, I consider the Taylor statement an affront to the Republican women vice-chairman of the 67 counties of this State, the leaders of the Women's Republican Council, members of the GOP State Committee, the Federation of Young Republicans, the Republican

HERE AND THERE IN BUCKS COUNTY TOWNS

Activities of Interest To All In The Various Communities

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

The two recent burglaries at the Tri-County Producers' Cooperative, at Center Point, have been solved. It is announced. With the solving of these there has been brought about the solving of a string of similar crimes. Five suspects have been rounded up.

The arrest of the gang was the result of a relentless following-up of suspicions, and trailing of men believed to be involved. The trail leading job that finally broke the case started from an Ambler diner and ended in the midst of a burglary at the Linfield fire hall.

In clearing up the burglaries, police recovered the strongbox taken out of the safe at the egg auction building on January 7, with $325 in cash still in it. The box was battered, but it had resisted the efforts of the gang to open it.

Those arrested and held at hearings in Pottstown are: Andrew Toth, 34, Philadelphia, paroled convict and an employee at an Ambler diner.

Louis Casterino, 34, Philadelphia, another parolee.

Earl Wilson, 22, Phoenixville.

Robert Barron, 22, Ardmore.

At its January meeting the New Hope Public Health Nursing Association set Saturday, May 13, as the date for its 1950 "open house" day.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

The Government yesterday sought a Taft-Hartley injunction in Federal Court to end the three-day week in the coal mines and to bring resumption of normal coal production. The court set hearings on NLRB Council Denham's application for a week from today. Local union leaders feared that the injunction plea would block their efforts to get 90,000 striking miners back to work on Monday.

A seven-day strike notice was served on the Chrysler Corporation by the United Automobile Workers, CIO.

After having beaten down attempts to back civil rights amendments to the bill, the Senate approved 56 to 16, the House-passed measure to repeal Federal taxes on oleomargarine. In the House, Republicans moved solidly to block a Democratic vote on the Rules Committee's effort to restore its power to keep bills from floor consideration.

Senate action on confirming Admiral Sherman as Chief of Naval Operations was deferred when it was charged that President Truman and Navy Secretary Matthews had issued a two-year commission to that post to Admiral Denfeld. A Senate committee unanimously crit-

"ALL-DAY" PARKERS GIVEN SUGGESTION

Requested To Use Side Streets in Business Area Of The Sixth Ward

DESIRE A MAIL BOX

If the "all-day" parkers along Farragut avenue will use the side streets for parking purposes, the parking congestion in the business area of the sixth ward will be considerably relieved. This was the consensus of opinion expressed at a meeting of the Bristol-Harriman Business Association held last evening. The meeting was held in the show rooms of the Johnson Automobile Agency.

Suggestions to be considered at a meeting with Burgess I. J. Hetherington to be held Wednesday evening, were considered.

At the meeting last evening there were reports of the Christmas lighting and plans were discussed for improvement next year. Lights may be strung along the highway next year, in addition to the lights which were used the past Christmas.

Joseph Duffy, Bristol postmaster, is to be requested to place a mail box on Farragut avenue, near Harrison street, to replace the one which was removed.

At the February meeting there will be an election of officers, at which time 11 directors will be chosen. These directors will then name officers. Ballots will be mailed previous to the meeting.

Sheridan Metz, president, presided at the meeting.

HOLDUP 'CONFESSION' BRANDED A HOAX

Boston.—A hoped-for quick solution of Boston's sensational $1,500,000 Brink's Express Co. robbery was blasted today when police announced that a "confession" of a Newark, N. J., man was a hoax.

The Newark man, police said, had not been out of that city for weeks and could not have driven a getaway car in the robbery—which provided the bandits with the greatest cash haul in American crime history.

A police announcement said the story of the man was "the babbling of a drunk who read about the holdup in the newspapers."

It was not immediately announced what action would be taken against the self-styled "stool pigeon," who identified himself as John Thomas Horigan, 27, an ex-convict.

Actually, police said, he was John Hannifan, a Newark carpenter and former orderly at the New Jersey Greystone Park Mental Hospital near Morristown.

Fear Coal Strike May Spread

"This comes as we are trying to get the miners back to work, but after this, I don't know."

State Police said murder charges will be filed today against Gibbs, an ex-GI and son of a highly-respected Pitman, N. J., family.

"LET CHILD DEVELOP AT HIS OWN RATE"

This is The Advice Given Hulmeville-Middletown P. T. A. Members

DR. C. GRAVE SPEAKS

HULMEVILLE, Jan. 19.—"Let each child develop at his own rate. Let each child develop his own norm." This was the advice given members of Hulmeville-Middletown Parent-Teacher Association by Dr. Charlotte E. Grave, of the Woods School, Langhorne, last evening.

Dr. Grave, who has for many years been active in the fields of psychology and education, was introduced to P. T. A. affiliates by Frank Binder, principal of Hulmeville school.

Commencing the portion of the program allotted to her by giving two simple demonstrations, with the aid of Mrs. William Scheffey and Miss Lois Byham, Dr. Grave attempted to show how the senses of taste, touch and vision can be deceived. This preceded her interesting talk which answered in general the query "What's normal?"

"What is normal or correct in development of a child depends on where it happens, the time in the child's life that it occurs, the type of culture under which he lives, and against what background the events

HOW HIGH CAN YOU COUNT?

Can you count up to 300 in one minute without running out of wind? Even if you're that good, you couldn't come close to counting 42,000,000,000 in one lifetime. So it is a good thing that it will not be necessary to hire a man to count a dollar at a time, the $42,439,000,000 President Truman estimates in his budget the federal government will spend in the fiscal year ending in 1951.

A man counting dollar bills at 300 a minute would count 720,000 in a 40-hour week. In a 50-week year—two weeks' vacation—he would succeed in counting 36-000,000. After 1,000 years (assuming that the poor fellow was doomed to eternal life at this job)
he would have reached 36,000-000,000 with only 6,439,000,000 still to go to finish the 1950 budget. He would be finished in another 180 years plus, or some time in the year 3131 A. D.

Counting by tens of thousands,
or at the rate of three million a minute, he could rush through the job in two months. That would leave him more than 10 months to count it over again a few times to make sure he hadn't made any mistakes.

But the 1950 budget, at that, seems to be easier to count than to balance. Mr. Truman expects it to be in the red by $5,133,000-000. Even that sum would take our original dollar-by-dollar man until some time in 2093 to count.

LAY THAT EPITHET DOWN

We've been reading with considerable amazement and delight a treatise on the earthworm, the net effect of which should boost the wiggly little fellow's stock considerably.

Earthworms, in our book, have always been things you attach to a fish hook. But consider the case of a man who bought himself a patch of Virginia soil that was mostly red clay. He brought in an army—or whatever the collective is—of worms nurtured them in a pile of compost, then turned them loose on his property.

Where heretofore, as the man explained, you could raise nothing but an umbrella, he now grows tomato vines as high as the roof of his house and gets huge apples from trees that normally wouldn't have borne until 1955. His flowers are the talk of the neighborhood.

It's all due to the worm casts those brown protuberances that raise hobb with the putting surface of golf greens. These bits of earth, according to analysis, are perhaps the most potent fertilizer known. Put to work in the right way they can create garden miracles. Not only that, but worms work like beavers most of the year, need no upkeep and no overseeing.

This Virginia worm general is a whale of a salesman, to be sure.
But with the salient facts in front of one it is difficult to see why worms have been relegated to the status of fish bait all this time.
Nor do we see how we can ever use the epithet "You worm you!"
on a human being again.

Choosing the Right Lip Color

Courtesy Guerlain
So that your lipstick will harmonize with your costume, decide what you're going to wear before you apply it. Then put it on carefully.

By HELEN FOLLETT

WHEN choosing a lipstick, says
a famous cosmetician, let your costume be your guide. It's fun to have these toiletries of various shades; you'll be better pleased with the lady in the looking glass.

It is a colorful season and that is why lip-tinting is something to think about. So don't stick to the same color. To get the utmost flattery from your wardrobe, your mouth should carry tones that are harmonious with your frock and hat,
as well as your complexion.

High Shades

With the high shades, bright reds and greens and French blue you'll want a lipstick that is clear and definite like zinnia. With the rich wine tones, magenta and hunter's green you will naturally select burgundy. Medium red lip pigment is most agreeable with the grey; taupe or beige frock.

Fabrics of off-tones, like silvery taupe and marble beige, call for the lip pencil that is delicate and subtle.

Egg plant is fashionable and you'll be surprised to find lipsticks of misty purple-red that will conform.
All this means that you'll have to select rouge that won't start a color fight. Many women have discarded dismountable blushes, letting the lipstick provide the rosy accent.

If your lips are full and you feel that your mouth is larger than one that you would have ordered, had you any say about it, do a fade away at the corners when you apply the pencil, deepening the color in the center of the lips. When the upper lip is thin, the lower one full—funny how sometimes they don't exactly match—give the upper one a heavier application.

Don't attempt to trace the outline of a cupid's bow. It is likely to look too artificial, if you were not born with one, and may throw the other features out of form.

Before washing your face, remove lip pigment with cream.

SUGGESTS A SIMPLE WAY FOR WASHING CORDUROY CLOTHES

By Miss Frances Vannoy
Home Economics Extension Rep.
Naturally your first thought when you buy a corduroy garment is that it can be washed. Although the fabric itself is washable, not all garments made of corduroy should be washed.
Dry cleaning is recommended for garments made of more than one color of corduroy, for those that are lined, and for garments that have trimming of other materials.
The following suggestions are given for laundering washable garments: Use hot rich soapuds and wash by hand. Squeeze the suds through the fabric. Put more soap flakes or powder on badly soiled spots and massage the spot gently with the fingers but do not rub.
When the garment is clean, rinse in clear warm water until all traces of soap are removed.

Gently squeeze out as much water as possible, being careful not to twist or wring the garment. Roll in a turkish towel with right side of the corduroy next to the towel.
Knead gently so the towel will absorb the water.
Shape the garment as much as possible and hang to dry. Brush thoroughly against the pile when the garment is completely dry. If pressing is necessary, steam lightly and brush.

and Mrs. Robert Hogue was appointed chairman.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon for Halleck G. Brooks, of Jamison, in Philadelphia. The pallbearers were as follows: E. J. Kroegher and Mr. Moore, Pittsburgh, and William W. Jones and Claude Palmer, Jamison. Interment was made in Westminster Cemetery, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Bernard Kool, of Chile, who recently moved to Newville, spoke on the life and customs of her native South American country at a meeting of the New Britain Township Women's Club in the school, at Newville, on Monday.

Mrs. Kool delighted the club women with her informal talk in which she reminded them that they have civilization in Chile, too, and are not exactly barbarians.

It was decided to give a magazine to the pupils of the first and second grades of the P. O. S. of A. School. There will be no meeting in February but David Appel, literary editor-critic, will speak at the meeting March 20 when he will give a book review.

RECIPES

Pork Tenderloin Patties Tops In Good Eating

What to have for company dinner or a special family celebration? Why pork tenderloin patties, of course. Not only is there deluxe eating in every bite, but you know you're getting real value for your money. There's no bone and no waste to pork tenderloin patties — and little shrinkage during cooking.

With lots of pork on the market, now's the time to enjoy the many delicious pork cuts available. Pork tenderloin patties, like all of the smaller cuts of pork — chops and steaks — should be braised rather than broiled or fried. Cooking the patties in a covered skillet with a few added seasonings results in tender, juicy servings of this delectable meat.

Braised Pork Tenderloin Patties
Flour patties and brown in a little hot fat in a skillet. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, add desired additional seasonings and a small amount of liquid. Cover skillet tightly and cook slowly until tender, 35 to 40 minutes. Below are a list of seasoning suggestions for varying the flavor of the patties:

1. Top browned patties with chopped onions. Use bouillon or tomato juice for the liquid in place of water. Add ½ teaspoon thyme or marjoram to the liquid, if desired.

2. Braise the browned patties in thin, mild flavored barbecue sauce, bottled or homemade. (½ cup catsup, ¼ cup water, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 tablespoon brown sugar, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce.)

3. Use diluted mushroom or tomato soup for the liquid and add a little chopped onion and a pinch of sage.

4. Use pineapple juice or canned pineapple syrup as the liquid. Add a little allspice.

5. Cook according to basic recipe above, then after patties are tender, add ½ cup sour cream to drippings in pan, thin with a little water, heat, season to taste, and pour over patties to serve.

6. Cover browned patties with thin slices of onion and top each with a tablespoon of chili sauce. Add a little water to the pan before braising.

Pork Shoulder Steaks
Cuts from the pork shoulder, such as butt roasts and shoulder steaks, are good dependables. They're among the thriftier buys and always can be counted on for juiciness and fine flavor.

Pork shoulder steaks, like pork tenderloin patties, should be braised instead of broiled. The disadvantage of broiling small pork cuts is that the surface of the meat dries out before the inside is thoroughly cooked. Pork steaks take to the same kind of seasonings as chops and patties. In buying pork shoulder steaks, plan on one for each serving, unless, of course, the steaks are large.

Fresh Ham or Leg of Pork
A cut which you may be seeing in your meatman's counter during this time of pork plenty is fresh ham. West of the Rockies this cut is known as leg of pork. It will make a nice change in your roast eating from loins and shoulder butts. Sliced cold for second or third day eating, roast fresh ham tastes wonderful when accompanied with jellied cranberry sauce.

In roasting a fresh ham, as in cooking a loin roast, place meat in a shallow pan on a rack to keep it out of the drippings. Do not cover, do not add water, do not baste. Roast in a 325 degrees F. over 35 minutes per pound for a whole leg (10 to 12 pounds), 40 minutes per pound for part of a leg (6 to 8 pounds or smaller).

LITTLE SLICES

Frankfurter Dish with New Spirit
Frankfurters go sophisticated when served as toasty brown chunks in a smooth sour cream sauce.

Sour Cream Frankfurters
6 frankfurters
2 tablespoons fat
2 teaspoons flour
3 tablespoons catsup

1 cup commercial sour cream
½ teaspoon salt

Cut franks in half inch pieces and brown in hot fat. Stir in flour. Add catsup, sour cream, and salt, and heat through but do not boil.

Quick Baked Beans with Bacon
On cold days there's nothing cozier than a big dish of baked beans. For a "short order" baked bean supper which has lots of flavor, here's a recipe using canned baked beans, bacon, and zippy seasonings.

take place," she continued. The speaker explained that what is accepted behavior in one culture is considered extreme in another, citing as an example a child running away from home in this country and the same thing occurring in Samoa. That such behavior on the part of a child in most parts of the United States often marks that child as not being normal in some respect, is the direct opposite of the many Samoan cases, where it is the accepted thing and no cause for comment when a boy, dissatisfied with life at home, merely moves to another village to live with a relative or pal.

That so-called "withdrawn" personalities are natural in thinly populated farm regions of the middle-west, where the farmer sees no one all day as he works on his tractor on the broad acreage, was pointed out. Dr. Grave told of extreme difficulty of many young men from back-woods sections in attempting to become part of a group and be under rigid discipline when called into the army. "We can be fooled in what is correct. We can be fooled in the behavior of a child or an adult," she stated. "All of these things are relative, and depend on circumstances in which the child is placed."

The guest discussed the norms which are useful as "sign-posts." "I hope none of you will be too impressed with your child's I. Q. An I. Q. must be surrounded with a lot of other material. What is acceptable for one is not acceptable for others. This is true in the physical field also. The whole picture is necessary before you can decide what a child is like and whether he is 'normal' for the circumstances under which he lives. . . . We can judge a child's degree of normality by the degree of integration—socially, intellectually, and so on."

At this point Dr. Grave cited physical advances for children from the age of four weeks up to several years. "In this country there is a different culture from others, and even here cultures differ according to location. Many things play a part in whether you're judging a child fairly or according to unrelated set of standards. The latter manner will never be a fair way to judge a child's normality. Some of us are 'race horses' and develop fast, others are 'truck horses' and must go at our own pace. That doesn't mean that one is superior to another. Let each child develop at his own rate. Let each child develop his own norm."

In the absence of Fred Herrmann, president, Jesse Daugherty, Middletown township, presided. He called upon Miss Margaret Perry and Dr. N. P. Larson for reports of the secretary and treasurer, respectively. Report of Mrs. Herman Pettigrew regarding the cafeteria was read. This showed that 890 meals were served between Dec. 22nd and

Jan. 18th (12 school days), or an average of 74.2 per day.
Boss Buckman gave brief report on Cubbing plans in this area, and reminded of the Bucks County Boy Scout fund drive. Report on Cubbing meetings was made by Mrs. Fred Kohler, Jr., she announcing the final session for January 24th. Playground equipment was discussed and consideration given to manner and material for having such built.

A committee was named to contact Hulmeville and Middletown school boards, inquiring into possibility of establishing a kindergarten locally. This committee includes: Mrs. Kohler, Mrs. Edward Linforth, Mrs. Frank Misoski, Mrs. Joseph Mucklow, Jr., Messrs. Buckman and Daugherty.

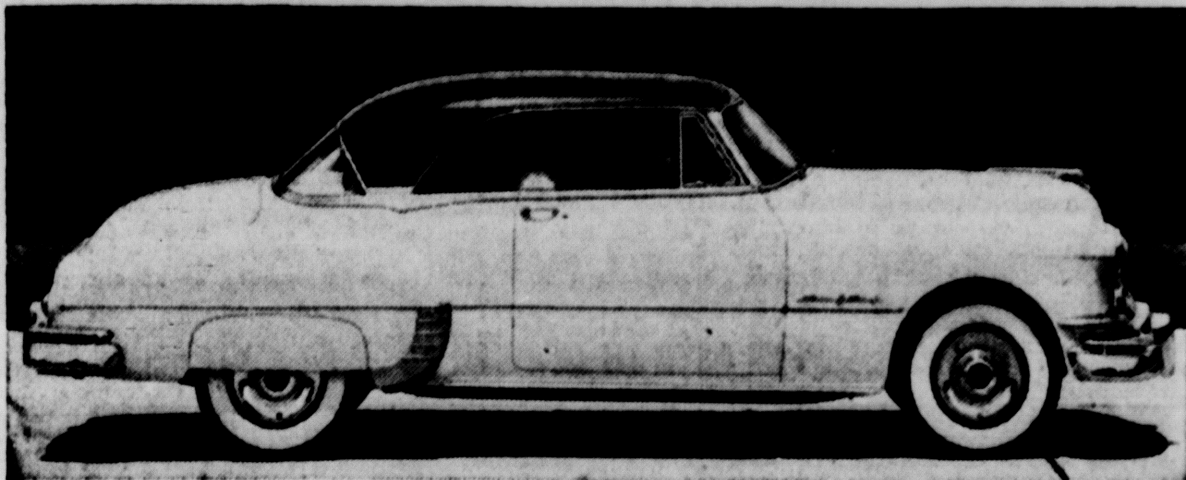

Announcement was made concerning a meeting at the Casino, in Pennel, Feb. 7th, when report on findings of Penna. Economy League regarding educational situation in this area will be made.

Attendance award went to grade one.
Ice cream and cake were served in the cafeteria.

Benner Cow Completes Fine Production Test
BRATTLEBORO, Vt., Jan. 19 — Janet Piche Ormsby, a registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by Linford C. Benner, Middletown township, Pa., has completed a 365-

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions. If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not give in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FAS-TEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FAS-TEETH at any drug store. (Advertisement)

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

DECISIONS, decisions, decisions. The American housewife has to make lots of them day in and day out when it comes to getting those warm, nourishing dishes on the table. In fact, a good guess is that the average homemaker plans and prepares from 40,000 to 50,000 meals in her lifetime. Put all those meals end to end and they all add up to a lot of downright hard work, not to mention the anxiety and thought that goes with it.

Knowing that the lady of the house would welcome a bit of help, the A & P Service for Homemakers recommends a tempting dish of Pork Chops Casserole for this Sunday's dinner. This savory meal can be prepared in a minimum of time, and can be counted on to please each member of the family.

Wipe six pork shoulder chops with a damp cloth and brown in a hot frying pan. Put in casserole, sprinkle with salt and pepper and place sliced apples and sweet potatoes in layers on the chops. Sprinkle again with a little more salt and pepper and add water mixed with Worcestershire sauce and Tabasco. Fry four strips of bacon, remove, and brown a chopped, medium-sized onion in the bacon fat. Spread the onions over the mixture in the casserole and arrange the bacon strips on top. Cover and bake in a moderate oven. This will yield ample servings for six people. For added zest serve the chops with green peas and a tossed green salad containing tomato quarters and French dressing. Then, keeping in mind that all's well that ends well, complete the meal with pineapple rice pudding topped with whipped cream.

Counter-Attack is Aimed At Duff in Harmony Move

Veterans League, Republican Congressional leaders and the leaders of the Republican Finance Committee, all of whom I proposed to be invited to the conference at Hershey January 28.

"The State Chairman and his cronies seem determined to try to ruin the Republican Party in Pennsylvania. I predict that their party-wrecking tactics will be resented and repudiated by all loyal Republicans."

It is the second time that Duff and Owlett have crossed trails in the political maneuvering. The other time was at the GOP National Convention at Philadelphia when Owlett and U. S. Sen. Edward Martin helped engineer the Presidential nomination of New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey over Duff's bitter objections.

The cross-fire of accusations stems from the wrangle over the selection of gubernatorial candidates. Duff leans toward one of his independent stripe. His opposition is not embroiled in a gubernatorial tussle but favors Lt. Gov. Daniel B. Strickler.

Owlett's first letter went to U. S. Sen. Edward Martin, who has called Duff's candidacy "most unfortunate." State Highways Secretary Ray F. Smock, all county chairmen and vice chairmen and all members of the GOP State Committee.

The letter follows:

"Dear Harv:

"I note that Hon. Ray F. Smock, Governor Duff's Secretary of Highways, and spokesman for you and the Governor, has called a meeting to be held at Hershey on January 28, and has expressed the hope that all counties be represented. I agree that all should participate and that the sentiments of the rank and file Republicans throughout the State should be obtained.

"If this invitation was intended to include the State-wide Officers of our party, this is to advise you that as Republican National Committeeman for Pennsylvania I accept the invitation and will attend the meeting, and am urging all County Chairmen to be present, regardless of whether they hold State jobs or not.

"If we are to have a real representation of the party, the following groups should be included:

Vice-Chairmen

"At none of your meetings has there been any representation of the women of our party, who are an integral part of our organization. The County Vice Chairmen cannot and should not be ignored. I think an invitation should be extended to them.

Women's Republican Council

"The Women's Republican Council of Pennsylvania has been one of the greatest influences in the success of our party. In county after county their work and influence has contributed greatly to the results. I think you should invite representatives of this group.

State Committee

"Under our party rules, the Republicans of Pennsylvania have elected a State Committee. These men and women are the chosen representatives of their party. They should not be ignored. I think they should be invited.

United States Senator

"United States Senator Edward Martin has been in Washington for three years—courageously fighting the battle against socialism. He not only is United States Senator but a former Governor, former State Chairman and has the confidence of all Republicans. He is not a candidate for any office and by all means should participate in these discussions and should be invited.

Young Republicans

"The party can never hope to be a success without the active support of the younger groups of the State. There has been recently organized the Young Republican Federation under the able leadership of Mr. Frank C. P. McGinn. It would be fatal to ignore this group. I think you should invite Mr. McGinn and a Committee to represent this Federation.

Republican Veterans' League

"There exists in Pennsylvania a Republican Veterans' League. There is no group that has a greater stake in the future of this country, and the preservation of the liberty for which they fought, than our veterans. I urge you to invite the representatives of this League. It would be tragic for the party to ignore them.

Republican Congressmen

"No group has a greater stake in the success of our party in the fall than our Republican Congressional Delegation who must stand for reelection and who must carry on the fight to preserve America. Certainly, at least the Chairman of the Congressional Delegation, Hon. Richard Simpson, should be invited to participate, as well as Pennsylvania's member of the Congressional Campaign Committee, Hon. Samuel K. McConnell.

Finance Committee

"The Republican National Committee and the Republican Congress-

sional and Senatorial Campaign Committees have assessed Pennsylvania a very substantial sum for use in the 1950 National Campaign. This money will have to be raised, as well as the money for our State Campaign, by the Republican Finance Committee of Pennsylvania. This Committee, under the very able leadership of Mr. Orus J. Matthews, has performed magnificently. Throughout the United States our Finance Committee is taken as a model. If we are to have a successful drive for funds, and in general a successful campaign, these men must wholeheartedly participate. I, therefore, think that Mr. Matthews, and his Executive Committee, should be invited to this meeting.

"In your meetings thus far, the papers indicate that you have ignored all the candidates with the exception of one who has been present at all of them. There are two candidates for the United States Senate and a number of candidates for Governor—all good Republicans—who will, I am sure, after the Primaries, turn in wholeheartedly for whomever is nominated. It seems to me that either all of these candidates should be present or none of them. Perhaps if none of them is present, it would be more apt to promote a full and free discussion.

"We have a real job ahead of us in November. It will require the united efforts of all Republicans. On the result of the election may depend the future of our country. If we lost Pennsylvania this fall, I can see nothing ahead but the complete socialization of America and the ultimate destruction of the liberties which have made this the greatest Nation in the world."

SPRING FASHIONS

PHILADELPHIA. — (INS) — Spring fashions for men won't blossom out with radical departures, but the trend toward comfortable, loose clothing will continue unabated. That's the word from Joseph C. Miceli, President of the Local Club Designers of Philadelphia.

Two Arrange Shower Honoring Miss Campbell

NEWPORTVILLE, Jan. 19 — A surprise bridal shower was given for Miss Emma Campbell, Ford road, by Mrs. George Ell and Mrs. Robert Loper, and held at the latter's home on Tuesday evening. The guest of honor was escorted to a chair with an umbrella decorated in white crepe paper with streamers to simulate rain. She was given a scrap book, each page having a picture and a rhyme telling where to find the gifts. A buffet supper was served, the table being decorated with a sprinkling can suspended over it. The centerpiece of the table was a cake topped by a bride and groom.

Others present: Mrs. Louis Robinson, Mrs. Joseph Campbell, Mrs. Emma Mellor, Mrs. Robert Kyle, Mrs. Mildred Schoel, Mrs. C. Ems, Mrs. H. Friedrick, Mrs. Russell Shoemaker, Mrs. Allison Tibbetts, Mrs. William Lambert, Mrs. Anna Masters, Mrs. James Marra, Mrs.

LOVE TEST

LONDON. — (INS) — A doctor or psychologist is not needed to diagnose whether two people are in love. This the opinion of Judge Fraser Harrison, who during a recent divorce hearing added: "People who are in love show signs as clearly as those who are drunk."

MILK RECORD

LONDON. — (INS) — Britain has broken all milk production records and has almost achieved her 1952-53 target of 1,460 million gallons sold off the farm. Minister of Agriculture Tom Williams revealed that the nation produced 200 million gallons more in 1948-49 than in 1947-48.

1950 Pennsylvania Farm Show GRAND CHAMPION 4-H BABY BEEF EXHIBIT Bought by AMERICAN STORES CO.

When little James Dick, of Sybertsville, Luzerne County, Pa., started to raise his Aberdeen-Angus Baby Steer, little did he realize that he had the 1950 Grand Champion. And greater was his surprise when, at the end of the show last week end, Mr. Jesse M. Dietz, head of American Stores Company Meat Buyers, bid $1,422 a pound, or a total of $15,549.90 for Jimmie's 1950-51 Grand Champion Pet, a price higher than paid for the Grand Champion in 1949.

For many years American Stores Company has been actively participating by purchasing many of the young Baby Bees raised by the boys and girls of Pennsylvania farms. Recognizing the importance of encouragement of these youngsters in their enterprising 4-H Club activities, American Stores Company representatives not only have frequented the State Show held every year in Harrisburg, but also have always made it a point to lend a hand by actively participating in the sales of many local 4-H Club Exhibits.

According to Mr. Dietz, "in purchasing James Dick's Grand Champion American Stores not only aims to stimulate his interest in future 4-H activities, but also it is in line with the company's policy of using every facility for bringing to American Stores and Acme Super Market Meat Departments such fine quality beef from these tender young baby steers." The best from this Grand Champion will go on sale Thursday, January 19th, in the Acme Super Market on Lancaster Pike, Pottsville.

PLACE TELESCOPIC BLEACHERS IN 'GYM' OF BRISTOL HIGH

Installation of telescopic bleachers, in four sections, has been completed at the Bristol high school gymnasium in time for Friday's basketball games with Palmyra, N. J., varsity and junior varsity teams.

The telescopic bleachers, of wood and metal, have been placed on four sides of the "gym." The section at the front is six rows high; that at the rear of the room five rows high; and those at either side four rows high. The bleachers will seat 700, and with extra chairs will provide accommodations for 800 spectators.

The bleachers will telescope into a space 2½ feet wide. The section at the stage end is entirely removable. This section, on rollers, can be quickly taken to the rear of the "gym" and placed in front of the section there when the stage is required.

The metal portion of the bleachers is brown, and the wood is stained a light oak shade, and has been shellacked and varnished.

The bleachers, which were ordered by Bristol borough school board, will add much to activities at the gymnasium.

Friday night's tap-off will be at 7.30, and the varsity and junior varsity teams will oppose Palmyra's two teams. The high school band will provide music.

A short ceremony will be conducted at the start of the evening. Harry McElister, director of athletics, Bristol high, will introduce a member of Bristol school board, who will present the key which unlocks the bleachers to Jerry Bloom, head basketball coach. Bloom, in turn, will give the key to James Morrell, president of the Student Athletic Association, who will receive the key for the student body.

PROFY TEAM AGAIN WINS, MAKING IT FIVE STRAIGHT

The Profy team won its fifth straight game of the Bristol Basketball League last night as it downed Tullytown A. C. 49-36, in a hard-fought tussle on the Rohm & Haas floor.

The contest was more closely fought than the score indicates and wasn't decided until the closing minutes when Profy's began to pull away after "Ham" Konefal broke a 34-34 tie.

Many times during the tilt the lead changed hands with no team holding more than a five-point edge at any time other than the final spurt made by the radlomen.

The count was knotted at 30-30 as the team went into the final ten minutes of play. Burton put Profy's ahead but Roy Lynch tied it at 32-32. Konefal scored under the basket but "Jim" Hoernal dunked in a long shot to even the count at 34-34. Konefal dribbled in to score and Burton followed with a long shot. Roy Lynch cut the lead to 38-36 but Val Bielecki scored on a beautiful shot which was followed by a foul and field goal by John Pindar. The latter points were the points that decided the issue for in the last three minutes, Tullytown failed to score.

Pindar, Al Burton and Konefal were outstanding in the Profy win with Gene Lynch and "Mickey" Stradling doing fine work for the losing team. "Norm" White played his usual steady game at guard for the Tullytown boys. Coach Joe Napoli was in uniform for the first time this season and did some fine floor work.

HIBERNIANS HAND 5TH WARD A DEFEAT

The Hibernians clicked early in the game to hand the Fifth Ward Sporting Club a 54-40 lacing in a Bristol Basketball League game on the Maple Beach club-house floor last night.

The Hibs had a 23-11 lead in the first half and only in the third quarter were the Corson Streeters outscored by their foes. Fifth Ward's playing was ragged in the three quarters they were outscored. "Johnny" Rodgers and "Charlie" Simmons accounted for 27 of the Hibernians points while "Chick" Alice Thomas, Croydon.

DeAngelo and "Eddie" Mazzanti had 25 of Fifth Ward's points. By virtue of its win, the A. O. H. team moved into a deadlock with the Warders for fourth place.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO PA. FARMERS

By Al Spivak
(I. N. S. Penna. Farm Editor)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 19—(INS)—
A bright farm outlook for 1950 is forecast by State Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst.

"The rank and file of Pennsylvania farmers are facing the new year with an encouraging degree of optimism," Horst believes.
"The long-time security of the State's diversified agriculture leads farmers generally to anticipate the best possible outcome and they will do their utmost to achieve that end," he declared.

Farm cash income dropped last year, but Pennsylvania farmers produced more tons of crops in 1949 than in 1948, the State Department of Agriculture reports.

A year-end Federal-State survey showed 1949 Pennsylvania crop production up slightly more than one per cent over 1948 on a tonnage basis, according to the Department.

A decrease of one per cent in field crops was more than offset by an increase of more than 70 per cent in tonnage of fruits.

Near record production was reported for corn, barley, late potatoes, soybeans and fruits. Early potatoes, oats and some hays yielded poorly due to drought, however.

A check on many fields in southeastern counties reveals that the army worm, and not the war worm, is to blame for considerable sweet corn damage, according to Dr. C. W.

Rutsky, entomologist at Pennsylvania State College.

A new study of the ear worm reported by Rutsky shows that proper seasonal conditions could make the corn ear worm a real menace.

The same insect attacks tomatoes,
where it is called the tomato fruit worm, hits tobacco as the budworm, and has been known to feed on squash, lettuce, and several other plants, Rutsky says.

In each instance the color of the worm is affected by the different food plants eaten, he points out.

A study under Pennsylvania's growing conditions, never attempted before, is still under way. Special cages have been prepared to determine how the war worm survives
the winter season, Rutsky says, and special population counts will be made in the spring.

Research workers of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Experiment Station are using farms of State correctional and mental institutions as sites for experimental plots, discloses Dr. M. A. Farrell, assistant director of the station.

Experimental work on these plots includes breeding studies, management and variety tests of forage crops, small grains and fertilizer tests. Institutional herds are being used in some dairy research, Farrell says.

Here Is Another Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Were Wrong!

Ever since the anti-trust lawyers filed their suit to put A&P out of business, they have been making, in the newspapers and over the radio, various "allegations" about how they think this company does business.

Please remember that "allegations" are charges that have not been proved.

In this case they will be disproved.

There have been times in the past when the anti-trust lawyers made very damaging "allegations" about this company that the courts eventually decided were utterly without foundation.

In our last advertisement we told you about the time the anti-trust lawyers charged that A&P, two other food chains and two labor unions conspired to fix the price of bread in Washington, D. C.

And yet, when this case came to trial, it was revealed that the defendants were actually selling bread cheaper than most other stores in Washington, and that there was absolutely no evidence that they had ever engaged in any such "alleged" conspiracy.

That was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all."

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

But this was not the only time that the anti-trust lawyers made such serious "allegations" against A&P which were false.

Again, and still again, they brought cases against A&P and suffered defeat.

As we have said, we think you are entitled to know about these other cases. And now, we are going to tell you about the second time the anti-trust lawyers were wrong.

The North Carolina Potato Case

In December, 1941, the anti-trust lawyers brought a criminal suit in Wilson, North Carolina.

They charged that A&P's fresh fruit and vegetable buying subsidiary, and other good American citizens, had conspired to fix and depress prices paid farmers for potatoes in North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Can anyone imagine any charge calculated to be more damaging to a retail grocery business that must rely on farmers, day after day, for the food we distribute to our customers?

In this case the anti-trust lawyers gave a story to the newspapers, telling millions of farmers that we were the kind of people who would force their prices down, deprive them of a decent income, and lower their families' living standard.

These charges were false.

They made these charges despite the fact that it has always been A&P's policy to pay our farm suppliers fair market prices for all produce; to aid agriculture through better distribution of its products; to narrow the spread between farm and retail prices; and to help farmers build better markets for their products.

That is why many thousands of farmers all over the country are now coming to our support.

When the case finally came to trial, the anti-trust lawyers put on as their first witness a potato expert of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

This expert, who was the anti-trust lawyers' own witness, testified that contrary to the anti-trust lawyers' "allegations," the defendants made every effort to help the Department of Agriculture in its efforts to aid the potato farmer in better marketing of his products and in getting a better price for his products.

When the anti-trust lawyers had put in their evidence and argued their case, Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."

Judge Wyche said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"I have studied this case from the very outset. In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes."

"I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence, as was done in this case."

"But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

So, here was a case in which the anti-trust lawyers made seriously damaging charges against A&P in which the Judge decided that there were no facts to support those charges.

That is why we say the anti-trust lawyers can be wrong and have been wrong.

That is why we say that they are wrong again, just as they were wrong in the Washington bread case and the North Carolina potato case.

We are going to show the American people that the suit to destroy A&P is really a suit against efficiency and against real competition.

The real question involved in this suit is whether businessmen are going to be encouraged to do a better and more efficient job; or whether we are going to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on anybody who gets big by giving the people more for their money.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Washington, Jan. 19.

Nearer The Brink

THE most disturbing thing about the President's $42,500,000,000 budget, with its estimated deficit of $5,500,000,000, is the state of mind it reveals. More than the staggering figures and the gigantic gap between receipts and expenditures, that constitutes the real national peril.

SO FAR as can be recalled, never before has the leader of a great nation exhibited such extraordinary complacency concerning his country's debt, deficits and the recognized dangers thereof. Never has any President so blithely ignored the fiscal facts or so completely disregarded the actual condition of the Federal financial structure. There are two things to be said about this, not in explanation, but in order better to understand the significance of Mr. Truman's position. One of these is that not in all our history has our financial situation been as unfavorable as it is today. Never has the debt been so high, the deficits so deep or the Government so close to bankruptcy.

THE other is that in tone as in content this budget message is in sharp contrast to any other which Mr. Truman has submitted — particularly does it contrast with that of 1949. In that year, as in previous ones, Mr. Truman expressed deep concern over the mounting debt and the recurring deficits. He insisted upon the vital importance of a balanced budget and strongly urged increased taxation in order to make the Government revenue at least equal its expenditures. He did not succeed in doing that last year. And the end-of-the-year deficit was shockingly large. He grossly underestimated his expenditures. Nevertheless, he went through the motions and no one questioned — or could question — the soundness of his budget position.

THIS time he completely reverses that position. Instead of proposing to balance the budget, he proposes — at the minimum — to spend $5,500,000,000 more than he will have to spend, thus compelling a huge borrowing of new money, the raising of interest charges and the further weakening of our financial foundations. He does not even propose to balance the budget in the near future. He makes a suggestion of a "moderate" increase in taxes, figuratively waves his hand at the $5,500,000,000 deficit and cheerily talks about regaining national solvency by "expanding our economy." Of cutting down the huge costs of the Government, reducing the swollen Federal pay roll and eliminating the almost unbelievable waste he has a few perfunctory words, generally recognized as phony.

WHEN you consider the critical financial condition of the Government, when you consider the President's previous concern over the unbalanced budget and when you consider Mr. Truman's own private business record, this 1950 budget message is well-nigh incredible. It seems impossible he can have forgotten that his own little business in Kansas City went bankrupt by following exactly the same course of debt and deficit financing he is now proposing for the nation. It seems impossible he does not know that if any considerable part of his welfare program goes through Congress this year, the deficit will be far larger than $5,500,000,000 for 1950-1951 and even greater for 1951-1952. It seems impossible he should not realize that if that happens, Federal finances will be wholly out of control and the crash, of which Senator Byrd has repeatedly warned, be unavoidable.

IT ISN'T as if there were not a way out. The admirable budget submitted by Senator Byrd would restore solvency and stability without crippling any vital Government function. So would the budget proposed a few days ago by the Committee for Economic Development. None of Mr. Truman's aides or advisers have so much as noticed either of these proposals both of which were completely in line with the way the President felt last year. Instead, they have taken him just as far in the other direction as they could. And, notwithstanding ing his own personal experience, he seems to like it.

THE only reasonable explanation offered is that the presidential political strategists and economists believe there is one more election in the spend, spend, spend policy. After that they just don't care. That is a harsh interpretation, but none other seems adequate. Under the circumstances, it is not surprising there should be mounting indignation in Congress and a growing determination to slice the President's $42,000,000,000 budget close to the $36,000,000,000 Byrd or the $38,000,000,000 budget of the Committee for Economic Development. However, let us not kid ourselves. That determination will not get anywhere unless supported by an aroused public sentiment. And it is extremely difficult to arouse or even interest the American people in anything as dull and undramatic as the budget. A considerable number of men have been trying to do that for sixteen years but with no great success. Now that we have been pushed almost to the brink, inertia still appears to envelop us. It is a pretty tragic performance.

IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE!

BUT IT'S TRUE!

IT'S ANOTHER TIDE MIRACLE!

A DAZZLING CLEAN WASH WITHOUT RINSING!

"NO MORE RINSING FOR ME!"

says Mrs. Elizabeth Davis of PORTSMOUTH, OHIO

"I didn't believe Tide could do it... till I tried it! But it's true! I took the clothes right out of those wonderful Tide suds and put them through the wringer and onto the line. And, they looked so bright and clean—I was proud to hang them up!"

"I took my wash out of the Tide suds—wring it out—and hung it up CLEAN! I'll never rinse again!"

says Mrs. M. Hayes
OF WEENAWKEN, NEW JERSEY

"Tide now makes possible an amazing new kind of washday—quick and easy, almost beyond belief. Just think of all the time and all the work I'm going to save every week... without rinsing! And think of the wear and tear it saves on my clothes! Thank you, Tide, for the biggest washday miracle of all!"

"My whole family wash dried so soft and fluffy—ironed so easily—without any rinsing at all!"

says Margaret Lockwood OF INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

"Talk about miracles! I take my clothes out of Tide's wonder suds, wring them out, and the dirt runs right out with the washwater just as they say it does! And what a beautiful fresh, clean wash without any rinsing at all! It dries soft, fluffy, easy to iron. From now on, it's Tide—and only Tide—for me!"

TIDE cuts washday work in half!
No more rinsing!
Just wash...wring out...hang up!

YES, another Tide miracle has been discovered—and it's the washday news of the mid-century! With Tide in your washing machine—you can take your clothes right out of the suds... put them through the wringer and hang them on the line dazzling clean! Without rinsing! Hard to believe? Yes, but it's a fact—and women all over America are proving it today.

HERE'S WHY! Tide, with its miracle suds, gets the dirt out of your clothes and keeps it suspended in the sudsy water. When you wring out the clothes, the dirt runs out with the washwater... and the clothes come from the wringer white... fresh... CLEAN!

YES, CLEAN! You all know how clean Tide has always washed your clothes with rinsing. Actually cleaner than any other washing product you can buy. Now, we'd like you to try Tide without rinsing... and then compare the results. It's simply unbelievable how bright, fresh and clean you can get your wash with Tide, without rinsing. And think of the time and work you save! So try Tide... without rinsing! If you do, you'll never want to use anything but Tide again!

WITH FLAKO CRUST

HOW TO DO IT

Crust—follow directions on Flako package.

For a hurry-up, use your favorite canned apples for the filling. If you wish to use fresh, peel and slice 6 to 8 tart apples into pie shell. Sprinkle 1/2 cup white or brown sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon salt, tablespoon lemon juice and distribute 1 teaspoon butter over apples. Cut several slits in top crust to let steam escape, and fit over pie. Crimp edge tightly. Bake in oven at 350° for 10 minutes, reduce to 350° for 30-35 minutes more. Serve hot or cold.

CITE SECOND CASE OF "FALSE" CHARGES

Advertisement Outlines Case
In Series of Advertisements
Being Released

QUOTES U. S. JUDGE

The second in a series of cases in which "false" charges were made by anti-trust lawyers against The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company is cited in advertisements being published in 2,500 newspapers this week.

Following a pattern set in previous ads, the company quotes a federal judge who exonerated an A & P subsidiary of charges it conspired to fix potato prices in three Southern states.

Under the caption, "Here is Another Time the Anti-Trust Lawyers Were Wrong!" A & P tells about a suit filed against its produce buying affiliate in Wilson, N. C. After the charges were heard, the jury was instructed to return a verdict of "not guilty." Federal Judge C. C. Wyche told the government attorneys that "you can't make a case without facts."

"In this case," the ad states, "the anti-trust lawyers gave a story to the newspapers, telling millions of farmers that we were the kind of people who would force their prices down, deprive them of a decent income, and lower their families' living standard."

The company points out that not only were the charges false, but were made "despite the fact that it had always been A & P's policy to pay our farm suppliers fair market prices for all produce; to aid agriculture through better distribution of its products; to narrow the price spread between farm and retail prices; and to help farmers build better markets for their products."

The ad also states that a potato expert of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, who was called as a government witness, testified that contrary to the allegations, A & P's subsidiary had made every effort to help the Department of Agriculture aid the potato farmer in better marketing and in getting a better price for his products.

Judge Wyche, in dismissing the case, said "I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence, as was done in this case. But as was said a long time ago, you can't make a case without facts."

Referring to the current anti-trust action seeking A & P's complete dissolution, the food chain states that the real question involved in this suit is whether businessmen are going to be encouraged to do a better and more efficient job, or whether we are going to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow a whistle on anybody who gets big by giving the people more for their money.

The ads are being published, A & P says, to counteract the effect of "damaging allegation," the anti-trust spokesman "have been making in the newspapers and over the radio." This week's ad also summarizes the Washington bread case in which Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough dismissed another anti-trust case against A & P "as absolutely devoid of evidence."

The government lawyers have not only been wrong in previous cases against A & P but "they are wrong again," A & P claims.

Teen-Age Problem Daughter

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

EVER so many parents of the child nearly grown, become almost hopelessly discouraged over attitudes and habits of his that they deplore and would like to change. As a result of their vain efforts to change this child they and he or she have grown more and more estranged, even mutually antagonistic.

"Dear Dr. Myers: My daughter is sixteen. She quit high school after three years. She was a brilliant scholar. She is now going to a business college two nights a week. What gets me is she lies in bed every day until noon. When she gets up she reads books and listens to the radio. She won't have anything to do with the housework. If I say anything to her she calls me a nagger. Please answer me as soon as you can."

I did and wrote, substantially, as follows. Since you were not able to induce your daughter to finish high school you hardly can hope to change her home ways by your usual methods.

A Parasite
I know, of course, how exasperated you become over this young woman who makes of herself such a parasite. But you must remember that her present attitudes and habits have been growing a long, long while. Nevertheless, there still may be a way to change this daughter.

You imply that when you say anything to her about her ways she interprets your remarks as scolding and complaining. Apparently they only stir up anger and resistance in her. If you will think over the matter you will easily see that your present way will only make matters worse.

Trying to blot out all the past from your memory, even from your heart, you might so be able to control your words, actions, demeanor, even your insides, as to reveal no vexation at her over her ways. If you can do this almost perfectly for several weeks the occasion might arise when you would feel able to talk with her in a completely objective manner and win her to see that she might gain more personal satisfaction if she would choose to take on a few home responsibilities. But the moment you find the least irritation arising then in her or yourself, you should say no more but wait for a "more convenient season."

Faults and Failures

The hardest thing for you will be to avoid telling her of her faults and failures. Every time you mention one of them you arouse her ire. Look for something lovely this daughter has said or done and then leap to show appreciation and approval. While these resources may arise at first but seldom they surely will arise. And when they do arise celebrate them abundantly.

When my own children were in their teens, I once wrote a prayer for myself as parent. I think it helped me. My children said they were sure it did. I should be glad to mail you or anybody else a copy of this prayer in a stamped envelope sent me in care of this paper. Here is one paragraph of that prayer: "Reduce, I pray, the meanness in me. May I cease to nag; and when I am out of sorts help me, O Lord, to hold my tongue."
